FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 10.-The railroad commissioners have before them a very unusual case, and before going into its consideration may first have to decide as to their own jurisdiction in

Tobacco dealers and other shippers of Franklin, Ky., have complained that the L. and N. has charged them extobacco between Franklin and Louisville. They not only demand that this matter be remedied, but that they be paid damages to the amount of the over charges they have suffered for years. The shippers claim that the commission has power not only to regulate these rates, but to give them the damages or rebate that they claim. The railroad claims, on the other hand, that the commission has no such jurisdiction. This latter question and the matter of holding a meeting at Franklin to hear the case will probably be considered at a meeting of the commission to be held at the Willard hotel, Louisville, next

Wednesday, when the commission meets to consider the winding up of its inspection of the railroad property in and about Louisville.
